Mediators Call GE, Union Heads To Peace Talks

Several Company
Plants Report Picket
Line Skirmishes

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators summoned the General Electric Co. and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers to new peace talks today.

Negotiations had broken off before IUE members struck GE plants across the country last Saturday night. The two sides were deadlocked over terms of a new contract, including wages and a cost-of-living clause.

A three-man mediation board will meet with company and union representatives at the New York offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

At Syracuse, N. Y., a screaming, shouting throng of about 800 pickets staged a brawl with some 210 officers in an attempt to prevent nonstrikers from entering GE's Electronics Park plant. No one was injured, but 12 IUE men were arrested on disorderly conduct charges, including John Stanley, 41, business agent of Local 320.

Picket line skirmishes were reported at various GE plants Monday. Several arrests were made and some injuries were reported. The union said that except for employees of the big GE plant at Schenectady, N. Y., less than 1,000 workers crossed IUE picket lines in the rest of the country.

"Far From Crippling"

GE said the strike had been "far from crippling" and that only one plant—in Philadelphia—had been "bottled up" by mass picketing.

The company employs 240,000 in 166 plants in the United States and Canada. The IUE, largest of about 100 unions that have contracts with GE, represents slightly less than one-third of the employees in 55 plants of the nation's biggest producer of electrical equipment.

The 20,000-member work force continued to work at GE's Schenectady plant, including 8,500 members of the union's Local 301, IUE's largest local. The local originally voted against a strike, but members will ballot again today on whether they will join the walk-out. The results will be announced Wednesday.

Ask 3 1/2 Per Cent Hike

IUE members, who average $2.30 to $2.40 an hour, have sought a 3 1/2 per cent per year increase, plus a union shop and other contract clauses.

The company has offered a three-year contract, with a 3 per cent wage increase effective immediately, and a 4 per cent increase in April, 1962. However, it sought elimination of a cost-of-living escalator clause.

26 Get Ballot Places For Charter Unit

The County Election Board Monday night granted ballot places to 26 non-partisan candidates, seeking posts on a 15-member commission that will draft a charter for Salem Municipal Government if voters approve at the Nov. 8 general election.

The candidates include both Democrats and Republicans. They will draft a proposed charter if voters first approve another question on the same ballot: "Shall a commission be chosen to draft a charter?"

Meanwhile, the Election Board has issued 272 absentee ballots for the fall election, mostly to service personnel. Conventional civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots will become available Monday.

Hope for 'Big 2' Confab Fades As Nikita Hikes Price

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The outlook for top-level talks on the cold war, or any significant East-West agreement during the current U.N. Assembly, faded rapidly today after Premier Khrushchev raised his price for a meeting with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet leader's terms included a demand that Eisenhower confess guilt for "treacherous acts" and "perfidy."

He said in a letter to the heads of five nations who tried to sponsor the meeting with Eisenhower: "Cited Aggressive Acts"

"A clear admission is necessary that it (the increased tension) has been occasioned by the unprecedented treacherous acts of the United States government which chose the way of carrying out provocative aggressive acts against the Soviet Union."

Previously, Khrushchev had demanded simply an apology from Eisenhower for the flights of the U2 and RB47 planes brought down by the Soviets.

The President, replying to the five neutrals Sunday, already had blamed the Soviet Union for a series of acts aggravating tensions and indicated clearly the scant likelihood of a meeting with Khrushchev.

President Tito of Yugoslavia sails for home this morning. President Nasser of the United Arab Republic prepared to board his special plane, bound for Cairo, later in the day.

President Sukarno of Indonesia is slated to leave Thursday for Paris to see President Charles de Gaulle of France, the only one of the Big Four leaders who did not attend this Assembly.

On file with the U.N. was an Australian amendment to the neutrals' resolution calling for another summit conference by the Big Four "at the earliest practicable date." It was introduced by Prime Minister Robert Menzies. He conferred with Eisenhower Sunday.

Menzies said he did not know whether the United States would support his proposal. American diplomats indicated they would.

$4 Million In Heroin Seized

Diplomat Arrested In Narcotics Raid

NEW YORK (AP)—An international dope smuggling ring has been smashed with the arrest of a Guatemalan diplomat and three other men and the seizure of $14 million worth of pure heroin, officials say.

Narcotics could have brought in $20 million on the illicit retail market.

Largest Dope Seizure

Officials said it was the largest seizure of narcotics ever known to the U.S. government.

Guatemala's ambassador to Belgium and the Netherlands, Mauricio Rosal, 47, and the others were held in $1 million total bail Monday after their arrest in Manhattan.

Federal agents said they had three black valises containing about 110 pounds of heroin, and had about $70,000 in cash, apparently a partial payment for the dope.

Rosal, a dapper, balding man, was indignant at the arrest and claimed diplomatic immunity. But officials said he was not accredited to this country and did not enjoy immunity from arrest here.

8 MPs Break With Lumumba

Blame Him for Reign of Terror

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Some Western diplomats attached considerable significance today to public declarations by at least eight members of Parliament that they have broken once and for all with Patrice Lumumba.

The MPs issued a four-page statement Monday night accusing the Communist-backed deposed premier of ordering a reign of terror in Stanleyville, Lumumba's political stronghold.

Signers of the statement said that all but 3 of the 39 senators and deputies from Orienta Province, which includes Stanleyville, have joined them in leaving the Lumumba camp.

Most political sources here felt the assertion was overdrawn. But at the same time they saw a crack in Lumumba's hitherto solid support in his home province.

One of the deputies who signed the statement was Victor Baonga, who accompanied Lumumba to the United States in July.

Another signer was Deputy Alfonso Songolo, communications minister in Lumumba's government and influential in Stanleyville politics.

The group acknowledged that Lumumba still holds the loyalty of the Congolese army garrison of some 7,000 troops in Stanleyville. But they said Lumumba has been buying off the troops and that when his funds run out his support will collapse.

The governing commission of the Congo's strong man, Col. Joseph Mobutu, has decided in principle to establish a National Congolese Bank. This would function somewhat like the U. S. Federal Reserve Bank.

Boy, Father Charged In Holdup

16-Year-Old Admits Robbing Akron Bank

Pair Got $62,628
Last Month; FBI
Hunts for Father

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Federal authorities have charged a 16-year-old boy and his father with the $62,628 holdup of an Akron bank.

Akron police said the boy, William Ellsworth Evans, has admitted he was the one dressed in overalls who leaped over the counter at a branch of the First National Bank Sept. 26 to scoop money into a shopping bag.

Evans is being held in Pittsburgh. Federal authorities in Cleveland issued a fugitive warrant Monday for his father, Joseph Ellsworth Evans, 55.

Had Father In Custody

Ironically, Akron police had the father in custody Friday for questioning in another matter but released him. He has since disappeared. Both father and son were picked up for questioning about alleged car thefts.

When Akron police went to Pittsburgh Saturday to question the younger Evans, he readily admitted the car thefts and also told of holding up the bank, according to Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright. Police said the boy related details of the holdup which convinced them he had been involved.

The boy told them all the money was in his father's possession except for a small amount spent for clothing by young Evans.

Father Has Long Record

Police said the father has a record going back to 1924. He served 30 days in 1931 for possession of stolen goods and served a penitentiary term in Pennsylvania after being convicted of breaking and entering in 1934. He had been heavily in debt recently, investigators said.

When the west Akron branch of the bank was held up last week there were 12 employees and three customers in the office. One man stood guard with a gun while the money was being taken from the tellers' cages. The holdup men fled in a late model car parked in the bank's lot.

Bernard C. Brown, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said young Evans has been charged with the interstate transportation of two stolen cars—one from Akron to New Jersey last July and the other from Pittsburgh to Akron in September.

Commissioner Fred Obley on the auto theft charges, Evans was held in the Allegheny County jail under $1,000 bond.

Information on the bank holdup charges came from FBI Agent Edward E. Hargett in Cleveland.

Cleveland Firm Low In Bids on E. Palestine Bonds

EAST PALESTINE — The McDonald and Co. of Cleveland was the successful bidder for the purchase of the $600,000 in mortgage revenue bonds to be sold by City Council, Tuesday night.

Its bid was an interest rate of 3.54 per cent and a premium of $600. Five other bids were received for the bonds, which will finance improvements at the municipal light plant.

The total improvement will amount to $836,000 with the remaining $236,000 to be financed by funds on hand and anticipated revenue for the next two years.

Improvements at the plant will include a new boiler, new switch gear, new high line and sub-station.

Council will meet tonight in an adjourned session to draw up a proposed electric light rate schedule adequate to retire the bonds in the specified 20-year period.

Rates discussed in committee showed domestic increases ranging up to 25 per cent, and industrial users' increases up to 45 per cent.

Lewis Has Minor Convention Role

2,000 Attend UMW
Session In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The United Mine Workers Union, the labor organization that spawned the modern organized labor movement in America, meets today to survey its depleted membership and fat treasury.

It is the first UMW convention in many years in which John L. Lewis, now 80, is playing a side role.

Lewis, who quit as UMW chief last winter, to become president emeritus, delayed his arrival on the convention scene in a piece of timing that his favorite playwright, William Shakespeare, would approve.

The UMW will feté Lewis in a giant banquet Thursday night.

The nearly 2,000 convention delegates gathered for a 10-day meeting that was destined to become a discussion of the coal industry and its economics as they affect the coal miners.

The miners now are about 185,000 strong as compared to more than 800,000 a few decades ago.

Lewis, whose successor as UMW president is amiable Thomas Kennedy, 72, guided the UMW on a policy through the years of giving in to the machine, to mechanizing the coal mines. The price was high wages and accompanying benefits to the constantly dwindling ranks of the miners.

Kennedy, an advocate of more orthodox economic thinking by labor union standards, wants unlimited unemployment compensation benefits for work-idled union members, plus a wide gamut of government aid plans.

The UMW with a narrowing membership, today counts its wealth in a treasury of over $100 million, with ownership of banks and a big stake in railroads and other blue chip enterprises.

A feature of the convention will be how Lewis, via Kennedy, holds the many union political upstarts in line.

Many UMW groups have complaints. The UMW's catch-all District 50 has a number of members who challenged holding this convention on grounds that some delegates have not been democratically chosen.

Soviet U.N. Mission Across the Street

Hunter College Girls Take Nikita In Stride

NEW YORK (AP)—Going to school across the street from Soviet Premier Khrushchev is trying at times—but it's also an education.

So say the girls at Hunter College.

They've had their own cold war blockade to run for more than a week now, with the Communist leader holding forth intermittently at the Soviet U.N. mission headquarters directly across Park Avenue from the campus.

The situation has produced classroom interruptions, arguments and annoyances, but also some laughs and learning.

"Most of the students have taken it rather lightly," said Barbara Galgano, 19, Manhattan, managing editor of the college newspaper, the Hunter Arrow.

Whenever Khrushchev has appeared on the street, or dismounted from the balcony of the Soviet building, students have abandoned their desks and swarmed to the windows to watch.

"It's as if it were a sideshow," Miss Galgano said.

Once, as Khrushchev sparred with reporters from his balcony, a group of Hunter girls began singing "God Bless America" from a classroom window.

He responded with a few lines of the Internationale, "Arise, ye prisoners of starvation."

Another time, some girls in a third-floor lounge let out a few boos. He glanced up, squinting, then grinned and made a thumbs-down gesture.

"Generally, most of the girls have regarded it all as a circus," said Linda Lax, 20, a Bronx junior. "There have been no general displays of animosity. It's been mostly just curiosity."

A number of Hunter girls are East European refugees, and favor tight restrictions against Khrushchev's activity.

Some Hunter girls have joined in picketing Hungarian headquarters here, following a speech on the campus by a refugee who said the Janos Kadar regime held many Hungarian girl students in prison.

However, no Hunter picketing against Khrushchev has been reported. "Decorum, you know," Miss Paul said.

Mickey Cohen Denied Delay In Tax Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ex-gambler Mickey Cohen, denied a delay in his income tax trial, is back in town today after a trip east seeking witnesses.

Cohen flew in from New York Monday night, a few hours after a federal judge turned down his lawyer's request for "a few more days" to prepare Cohen's defense on charges of evading almost $400,000 in taxes. The trial is set for Monday.

Workers Hope For $84,960 In Two Weeks

*12 Chest Agencies,

On Public's Gifts

United Appeal campaign workers started out in earnest today in concentrated effort to raise $84,960 for 12 Community Chest agencies and the Red Cross, following a "kick-off" meeting of solicitors and leaders Monday night at the Memorial Building.

The attendance of campaign workers at the dinner meeting was one of the best in recent years.

The meeting was keynoted by a challenging talk by Walter Deming, president of the Deming Company, himself a Chest leader for many years.

Mr. Deming reviewed the growth of the fund campaign, which stemmed from the original drive for funds to establish City Hospital back in 1911.

Speaker Issues Challenge

He challenged the canvassers to meet the present goal and declared that it can be done, citing the people's interest and concern in previous successful undertakings.

The $84,960 United Appeal goal represents $63,720 for the 12 Community Chest agencies and $21,240 for the Red Cross. For many years the Red Cross conducted its own separate drive but is now included in the United Fund.

The meeting was presided over by Albert Hanna, president of the Community Fund Association, with the Rev. John Hurrie, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, giving the invocation.

Campaign Chairman E. Ralph Martin set a target date of two weeks for the team leaders and

Police, Fire Layoffs Are Threatened

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer said today that because of impending city financial difficulties he would recommend to City Council tonight that two firemen and two policemen be laid off from the departments as an economy measure.

He said he had conferred with the safety and service directors and had received their agreement to the plan.

The action, if taken, would come as the result of the mayor's veto of the city income tax ordinance and City Council's failure to pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto of the bill Sept. 2.

Council thus far has declined to override the mayor's veto of the ordinance which called for an income tax of one-half of one per cent, to take effect Oct. 1 and run for a period of 15 months.

The estimated yield of the tax was $200,000, which Mayor Cranmer declared was more than was needed.

10,000 March Against De Gaulle's Policies

PARIS (AP)—About 10,000 opponents of President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria tried to march on the Presidential Palace Monday and were quickly routed in a clash with riot police.

About 40 persons, including police, suffered bloody noses and cracked heads. Twenty or so youths were arrested.

The clash may add fuel to a parliamentary session starting today. Many deputies are nursing complaints about De Gaulle's policies. Encouraged by signs of dissatisfaction by many Frenchmen, the deputies are expected to give Premier Michael Debre a rough time. De Gaulle himself is not responsible to Parliament.

Prescription for 'Zero' Salad Dressing

I continue to receive many fascinating, informative letters from subscribers.

Miss Nancy Myers of Kansas City, who signs herself a "loyal reader," mildly rebukes me for recommending mineral oil as a dressing for people who are watching their weight.

She correctly calls my attention to the capacity of mineral oil for dissolving fat-soluble vitamins. She fears that use of the dressing may produce a vitamin deficiency state.

While it is my own feeling that the slight amount used in the ordinary diet have little significant effect on the total economy, I yield the theoretical point to Miss Myers, particularly in view of her kindness in furnishing me with what she calls "a zero dressing for salads."

Here are the ingredients of "Zero Salad Dressing": One-half cup tomato juice, 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, dash of black pepper, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon horseradish; garlic to taste, if desired. Combine ingredients in a jar with a tightly fitted top. Shake well before using.

We've just tried Miss Nancy's recipe. It's so good, I've decided not to argue with her.

I'VE RECEIVED several letters inquiring about the causes of, and treatment for, hair loss by female subscribers.

Curiously enough, this problem was recently investigated by members of the American Dermatological Association. A questionnaire sent to 170 members revealed the fact that more than half had noted increased balding in female patients. Loss of hair was particularly observed in women past the age of puberty.

Although the report closes with the statement that nothing is known of the cause or treatment of this embarrassing condition, I venture the opinion that much of this type of hair loss is due to the injury inflicted on hair roots by permanent waving and related insults to the human scalp, conducted in the name of beauty aids.

With which statement, I retire to my bombproof shelter.

Sen. Kennedy Taking Things Easy Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy turns to an almost forgotten word today in this presidential campaign: rest.

After putting in a 16-hour day politicking in Illinois Monday, Kennedy plans to take it comparatively easy. He has nothing on his formal schedule but a fund-raising speech in Indianapolis tonight.

Indiana once was a Republican stronghold, but Democrats have been making such spectacular gains there, especially in congressional races, that Kennedy has high hopes of picking up its 13 electoral votes. He will spend almost all Wednesday touring Indiana.

The Democratic presidential nominee stays here until late this afternoon.

Although he has no public appearances on tap, even a light day in the life of a candidate has its complications.

For example he planned to meet with a publisher of Negro magazines to discuss the Negro vote. Kennedy Monday put in another of those incredible days in which he tried to do approximately twice as much as he had time for.

He began by crossing the Mississippi River from St. Louis and touring the industrial area there. He flew south for that portion of Southern Illinois that's known as Little Egypt. He went on to Springfield for an evening speech before flying here to spend the night.

It added up to a 16-hour day in which he made 15 speeches. He was heard or seen by well over a hundred thousand persons in a day so crowded the candidate had trouble finding a moment to grab a bite to eat.

But Kennedy counted it well worth the trouble.

"It was a much warmer reception than I had expected," the Massachusetts senator said. "I am much heartened by the trip."

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who campaigned through southern Illinois with Harry Truman in 1948, said: "I've never seen crowds like this in this region in my life."

We planned to marry late in the fall so I told my girls that I was quitting my job to marry Ben.

The 6-year-old said "goody" but the 7-year-old went into a crying spell and screamed, "No you can't do that!"

She wouldn't stop crying until I promised her I'd wait awhile longer. She kept saying, "I want you to marry Daddy again."

This is impossible because my first husband has a terrible temper and we fought all the time. We could never make a go of it.

United Appeal Needs Your Help

Salem's United Appeal drive, a combination Community Chest and Red Cross campaign, is under way.

Once again the people are being counted on to respond with their customary generosity.

The Chest drive last year went over the top and leaders of the current campaign are optimistic that history will repeat. Down through the years the campaigns have succeeded, with few exceptions, due to the public's understanding of the needs and obligations of the 12 local agencies which lean on the Chest for financial support.

The city's demonstration last year was a magnificent expression of community solidarity but this season the goal is much higher due to the fact that the Red Cross is included in the one United Appeal. Of the $84,960 quota, $63,720 represents the Community Chest and $21,240 the Red Cross.

'They Are Not White'

Vice President Nixon was the first top U.S. official to stress what lately has become obvious to everybody — that in the world of today the white man is a minority.

In April 1959, the vice president said it like this:

"My wife and I have traveled through many countries abroad. Mr. Khrushchev refers to 'burying us.' The war that he refers to, or claims to refer to, has already begun and it is going on in Asia, in Africa and the Near East. A billion people live there. They hold the balance of power in the world. Which way will they go?"

Lucky Salemites

Next time you complain about getting caught in a slow-moving line of traffic, relax. Consider yourself fortunate to be a resident of Salem or the neighboring district.

If you were a resident of one of the large metropolitan cities or Outer Suburbia where most of the big city workers seem to live, your trials and tribulations of commuting would make any travel problem here small by comparison.

Where, else but in a splendid typical American city like Salem can you drive to work or to the store in a matter of minutes, shop in one of the best business districts with your car literally parked at your elbow, and exchange greetings with friends and neighbors at almost every turn?

Many a harried commuter in New York, Chicago or San Francisco would trade places with you any day of the week.

Our Garden Clubs

If Salem Garden Club and Garden Study Club members keep up their good work they are going to have to prepare a special exhibit shelf for their ever-increasing number of awards.

At the Garden Club of Ohio's recent annual meeting in Dayton, the local delegates were called forward to receive three first place trophies and honorable mention awards.

The Garden Club took the top classification citation for the third time and both were cited for civic contribution, which includes support and maintenance of the Garden Center at the Smucker House. Recognition in conservation work, occupational therapy among the retarded children and promotion of junior garden club activities in the elementary schools also was deserving.

To members of the clubs and to the officers, several of whom were elected to state board offices, we add our congratulations.

Once Over

Nikita, here in the World Series season, may appear on a balcony in baseball uniform, pose as the friend of all nonparticipating baseball teams as underprivileged, denounce the Yanks as capitalistic exploiters and demand the removal of both leagues to Moscow, Geneva or Budapest in interest of fair play and world peace.

Following this up by proposing that the umpires be replaced by a 20-man committee with veto power. Kept on Manhattan with the series in the Bronx, he could also call upon all club owners to free hotdog and peanut vendors from control of concession operators.

We can hear him raring, "Why call this a World Series when only the Yanks and Pittsburgh are mentioned? Where are Ghana, the Congo and Cuba?"

"The glorification of Casey Stengel is a plot to obscure Lumumba. All peace loving peoples are for the inclusion of underdeveloped baseball areas as represented by Kansas City and Philadelphia.

"I point to the desolate areas of Ebbets Field and the Polo Grounds as proof of what imperialistic powers have done."

(Here Fidel) Castro embraced him and cried "Yankes no; Pittsburgh yes." Mr. Khrushchev continued, "It is time to disarm the powerful Mickey Mantle and all hitters with an average above .200.

"The need for aid to Baltimore is apparent. There can be no peaceful solution as the World Series is presented today.

"The U.S.S.R. is for a series in which all baseball teams everywhere participate, regardless of their experience or the ratings of those sinister forces, the official scorers.

The Chest itself is up only $2,425 this year because agencies' budget requests were trimmed to the barest requirements.

Campaign solicitors received their instructions at a "kick-off" meeting Monday night and soon they will be seeking your donation to a worthy cause. These volunteer workers are giving of their time and energy. All you have to do is dig into your jeans or your purse for a gift that your heart dictates.

When you give you are helping the many organizations that go to make your community the great city it is, such as the Boy and Girl Scouts, Memorial Building, Quaker City Band, YWCA, City Hospital and the Central Clinic, Home Nursing Service, Catholic Charities, Home For Aged Women, School of Practical Nursing, and the Red Cross.

The United Appeal goal can be reached if YOU help.

"The people who live in these countries are different in many ways, different religions, different clothing, different housing, customs and food. But they are alike in one way — they are not white. And having traveled abroad and having spoken to these people in terms of the traditional beliefs of the United States of equality of opportunity, of recognizing the individual dignity of a man, regardless of his background, I can only say that it is most difficult for a representative of this country to talk one way abroad, and then to explain our practices at home."

THE IMMEDIATE goal of U.S. foreign policy is to persuade the new nations of Africa that their future lies with the United States and its allies, instead of with the Soviet Union and its allies.

It is time to face up to a few facts about the international effect of the Democratic party's blight of race prejudice.

Its vice presidential candidate, Lyndon B. Johnson, bears the party taint of race prejudice.

The Democratic chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate is J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, whose Negro-hating governor, Orval Faubus, made Little Rock a world scandal.

The speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, is identified with the viewpoint that Negroes are not qualified to be first-class citizens.

The Democratic party's best-known legislative leaders are men like Harry Flood Byrd, Richard B. Russell, John L. McClellan, Oren Harris, Graham A. Barden, Carl Vinson and Howard W. Smith — all committed to the doctrine of white supremacy.

NONWHITES who come to the United States for the United Nations meetings are aware of the race prejudice favored by the southern wing of the Democratic party.

They encounter it when they travel. They read about it and hear about it.

At a critical juncture in the United States' bid for leadership, they cannot help but wonder how to reconcile the golden promises of their future if they stay clear of the Communist bloc with the bleak evidence that one party in the two-party United States is tainted so deeply with race prejudice it has a senator from a segregation state running for vice president and segregationists sitting astride important committees in Congress.

If the Democratic party takes over the White House, too, the "practices at home" mentioned by Vice President Nixon will be harder to explain than ever when nonwhites ask questions.

A wife gets things by crying and then has the laugh on her husband.

Asked if he wanted to go to series and throw out the first "brawl," he replied, "The series can do without me, but can I do without the series, in my pitch for complete front page publicity? There is an old Russian proverb, 'Where the cameras are thick as sturgeon eggs a showman who stays away gathers no moss.'"

IN CHICAGO tests are being held to pick America's safest auto driver. A doctor, a psychologist and a specialist in driving skills are judges and we hope they don't get run over on the way to the meetings.

Cyrus Eaton, throwing a lunch for Kadar of Hungary, says he should be helped to build new hotels in Budapest. Rooms with double-cross ventilation, obviously. . . I saw more police in New York than in all the socialist countries of Europe," said Mr. Eaton. "This indicates law and order may be better there than in the land of the free and the brave."

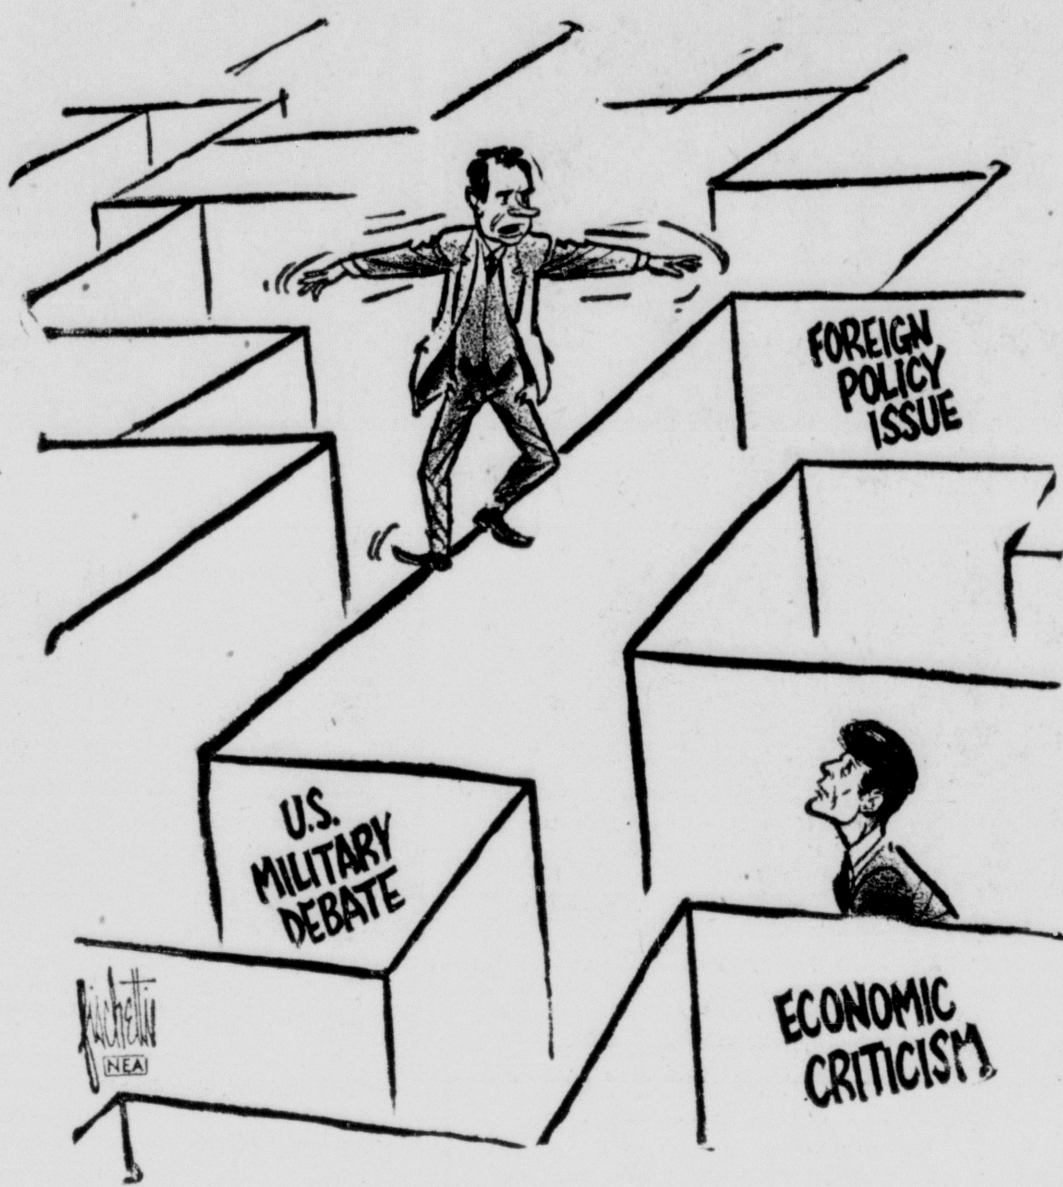

This gives him the award for the most unpatriotic crack of the decade.

A birdlike chirp is replacing the telephone bell in London. It will be hard to figure whether a neighbor or a canary is calling. Vacuum cleaner which made unusual sounds was found to have sucked harmonica inside. Why did the owner remove it? Our missus says the sound of music in a sweep-in operation should be mandatory.

Nikita Khrushchev is for disarmament except in war on the U.N. and Dag Hammarskjöld. He couldn't be more violent against Dag if the secretary general had flown over Russia in a U2. Summary of U.N. session to date: NEVER HAS SO MUCH PEACE BEEN ASKED WITH SO MUCH BELLIGERENCY.

"I'm in Position to Know About These Things"

Ike's Double Victory

By JAY G. HAYDEN

President Eisenhower, who scored his first bull's-eye in the current United Nations Assembly by the 70-0 vote sustaining Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, registered an equally significant victory in barring from this session the question of Communist China's U.N. membership.

The vote on the latter issue, after only two hours of debate in the steering committee, was 11-7 in favor of a U.S. motion rejecting Russia's demand for reconsideration of the Chinese membership issue.

The Russian plan, now as always was to throw out Chiang Kai-shek's Taiwan government as one of the "Big Five" in the U.N. and install the Peiping government in its stead.

The roll call by which the Russian proposal was rejected was exactly the same as a year ago. Besides the United States in the majority were Great Britain, Canada, Costa Rica, France, Haiti, Italy, Japan, Pakistan, Panama and Nationalist China.

The minority consisted of the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Ceylon, Romania, Iraq, Yugoslavia and Sudan.

THE PRESIDENT of the assembly, Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, failed to vote although he might have done so and certainly on the anti-Communist side.

The one difference from last year was that India, as prime mover in behalf of Communist China in 1959, was now replaced by Russia. That shift may have been due to Communist China's recent seizure of Tibet, including minuscule trespassings into territory claimed by India.

The key vote in the steering committee occurred immediately after James J. Wadsworth, the United States representative, had won priority for his motion to exclude consideration of the Chinese question by a vote of 12-3, with three members abstaining.

In support of his proposal Wadsworth had cited, in addition to the long-standing American claim that Peiping's actions have been violently in conflict with U.N. principles, the invasion of Tibet and Communist Chinese "contempt" for U.N. policy and actions in the Congo.

An oblique factor in this continued exclusion of Communist China may have been a weakening of Russia's heretofore unalloyed championing of the motion for admission.

Previous to Nikita Khrushchev's arrival in New York there was general prediction that he would try to get in ahead of President Eisenhower's speech by moving in the steering committee for Chinese admission.

AS EVENTS transpired, Khrushchev showed a marked decline in enthusiasm on behalf of China. Far from trying to jump the gun on President Eisenhower, his reference to China in his subsequent long speech was limited to a single mild paragraph which said:

"To block the restoration of the legitimate rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations only because the socialist order in that country is not to the liking of certain Western countries, and first and foremost the United States, means to ignore reality."

In marked contrast, Khrushchev spoke hundreds of bitter words in the same address on behalf of Castro's Cuba and Patrice Lumumba's rejected dominance of the Congo.

India's withdrawal from the role of sponsor for Communist China is not the only indication that Prime Minister Nehru's attitude has changed.

While he has continued an outward show of personal friendliness with Khrushchev, Nehru conspicuously walked out early in Fidel Castro's long harangue, and his vigorous support of Hammarskjöld in face of Communist attack has been absolute.

The Indian prime minister is reported as characterizing Castro's performance as a "display of vulgar histrionics."

Nehru is pictured further as greatly startled by the open attempt by Russia to grab the Congo for itself, in defiance of the United Nations, even after casting its vote in favor of U.N. intervention.

In light of these and other comparable developments there is wonderment as to how long Khrushchev will persist in bucking the U.N. tide, now so clearly running against him.

"Well, we've finally found a parking place. Does anyone remember what we came downtown for?"

Nominal Neutrals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

'Impartial' Nations Playing U.S. Against Russia

"Neutrals" and "neutralists" were the words used in the press dispatches and headlines the other day to describe the chiefs of five governments who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations Assembly calling for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

But they really aren't neutrals. Can there be a position of neutrality between a government of barbarism and a government of freedom and humaneness?

Is any government entitled to call itself neutral when it just plays one side against the other and, in some instances, engages in an international game of extortion and blackmail?

The heads of the governments of Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Ghana and the United Arab Republic are impartial only in the sense that they have received or are demanding aid from both the Soviet Union and the West.

As for India, which is the fifth nation in the group, it has in the cabinet of the premier an influential minister of distinctly communist sympathies who steers Mr. Nehru into moves such as he made the other day.

THE WHOLE GROUP of five conferred at length with the Soviet premier and then issued the resolution calling for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

One wonders why they didn't confer also with the American secretary of state. A mediating commission of true neutrality usually canvasses both sides before making any such recommendations.

There is every evidence that the Soviet premier was using the group of five chiefs of state for his own propaganda purposes.

The resolution was hardly a day old when Khrushchev announced his conditions for the meeting — the demand for an apology from President Eisenhower for the U-2 flights.

This indicates clearly that the Soviet premier wasn't really serious in his acquiescence to the so-called neutralist proposal and wanted it issued only for the purpose of knocking it down publicly.

The so-called neutralist group is constantly pressing for more money or economic aid from the United States. The big argument usually made is that if America doesn't furnish the money, they will have to turn to Moscow for it.

Thus Premier Nasser of Egypt, while negotiating for American help for the Aswan Dam, was secretly negotiating for arms and ammunition from the Communist bloc states.

When John Foster Dulles discovered this double dealing, he rightly called off the negotiations.

But there are Americans in important political positions who have publicly denounced him for it — as, for instance, Sen. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

UNFORTUNATELY, for political reasons in which party is sometimes put above the nation's interest, there are some speakers who never miss a chance to blame the Suez crisis of 1956 on the United States just because this country didn't help on the Aswan Dam.

If America is unashamedly to buy good will, then the sooner the American people face up to the true meaning of such blackmail extortion, the more quickly they will learn to protect themselves against the pitfalls that appeasement has brought in the past.

Already Adlai Stevenson, who is expected to be secretary of state if Mr. Kennedy is elected president, is demanding, in effect, that President Eisenhower now back down and meet with Mr. Khrushchev.

Mr. Stevenson said in a speech at Salt Lake City last Saturday: "President Eisenhower has often said he would do anything to advance peace. But if he decides not to see Mr. Khrushchev, I hope he will have an explanation that will satisfy the neutrals."

Why must the United States forget the insults to its president and also ignore the Soviet refusal even to permit a U.N. investigation of the circumstances whereby an American airplane is shot down over the high seas and two survivors of the crew are still held prisoner in the Soviet Union?

Why are the so-called neutrals to be satisfied only by the sacrifice of America's self-respect? JUST 24 HOURS before President Sukarno of Indonesia was introducing the so-called neutralist resolution in the United Nations, a Reuters News Service dispatch from Indonesia was coming over the wires as follows:

"An Indonesian military commander announced today that only newspapers supporting the government's political philosophy will be allowed to continue publication in Jakarta (the capital)."

"The spokesman for the Jakarta garrison command said all newspapers in the future would have to obtain licenses and would have to agree to following the 'guiding line' laid down by the government."

"The government has confiscated eight printing plants in Jakarta, Bandung, Semarang, Surabaya and Makassar in the past week, causing the closure of 11 daily newspapers."

Yet it is the dictator of this kind of despotic and totalitarian government who stalks around in the United Nations Assembly as one of the sacrosanct neutrals in the so-called free world!

Back to Guinevere

By TRUMAN TWILL

A report from dear old England says the professor of child health at Sheffield University advises mothers to spend a weekend alone with their husbands occasionally. He means to chuck the kids and give the old man the illusion he married his girl friend, instead of a nursemaid.

This is a delicate topic. Yet, we take it up every so often, because there is a deep and crying need in this land—and all other lands, we suppose—for frank discussion of the problem of how to raise children gracefully.

There are no hard-and-fast rules covering the parent-child relationship; the discussion starts from that point. But if it can be assumed that the relationship has many variations, it can be assumed that one of the variations that cannot be neglected calls for occasional breaks in parental routine.

These breaks need to be longer than a few hours. The Englishman who suggests a weekend is talking about the mental health of mothers. But perhaps if he had leveled, he would have cleared his throat and mentioned the mental health of fathers, too.

It is our judgment that fathers get more enjoyment from children than mothers because in the nature of things fathers are less likely to be kid-ridden. They are not on the premises all day, to be worn down with responsibility and admonitions and questions.

But even the gratification of fathers can be used up—and not by the children but by the fact the children get the attention their sire used to count on when he was their mother's chief focus of attention. Finally there comes a time when a father is jealous of his own offspring.

No one is cooing over him any more.

He has been whittled down to the status of a bearer of crackers and a carrier of water. He is a handyman who fixes nursery equipment and gets a pat on the head when the kiddies are in bed, if their mommy isn't too bushed to lift an arm.

A weekend away from it all is good for mothers, says this Englishman, R. S. Illingworth, and it also is good for the children—teaches them what life without mama is going to be like someday. But not a word about what it could do for the fellow who married an angel and finds himself being the prince consort of a queen mother.

It would put him back in the running again. Once more he would be a spotted gazelle with silver tips on his horns, leaping lightly over bushes up to 10 feet high and making his polished hooves twinkle in the sun.

It would be the way it was when he was a supple tiger leaping down the jungle path, meowing at every bend and licking his sleek whiskers while the birds made music all the day.

The block would be turned back for the nonce to the time when he was a knight in spun aluminum armor on mechanical horseback, jousting with the forces of darkness and sending them sprawling to the impassioned squealing of his baby-doll, Guinevere, swooning in the highest window of the castle tower.

The fathers of the world are indebted to R. S. Illingworth. They sincerely hope his wife and kids will read his advice and take him off the hook for a weekend, which is what he probably had in mind when he wrote in "Family Doctor," journal of the British Medical Assn., that the old lady should chuck the kids once in a while.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Any union member who has to pick himself and his teeth off a bloody meeting hall floor because he talked up against the leadership should be fascinated by an FBI report just turned in. It is on the desk of Malcolm Wilkey, U.S. assistant attorney general, chief of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department.

It all began in the corridor of the beehemoth convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J., on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 21.

A fellow by the name of Don Rarick, leader of a small opposition group inside the big United Steel Workers Union, was hit by "several" haymakers.

He went down. His coat went off. His assailants took off.

Rarick, who has run against the popular David McDonald for the union presidency, protested to the Labor Department.

Others in Rarick's opposition movement had been roughed up previously. But there isn't the slightest evidence that Dave McDonald even knew of the fights.

Actually the point here is: Had Rarick been beaten on convention grounds or had he been assaulted outside or "near" the parley. It makes a difference in determining whether or not a man has been deprived of his right "inside" a union and in one of its policy making meetings.

It took the fast moving FBI just three days to gather its facts. By Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, a report was put on the desk on the criminal division's chief.

Now it's up to Malcolm Wilkey. The report is a precedent.

NONEN OF THIS is apt to shake McDonald's influence or leadership. But there are other unions—scores of locals—in and out of the AFL-CIO—whose meetings are danger spots for the opposition.

Now, if a man has the guts to stand up and take a whack on the head, he knows there are federal forces which will move to protect him.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, Cincinnati researcher, says his new live-virus polio vaccine apparently has cut the disease down to virtually no cases in some iron curtain countries. After his return yesterday from a European tour, he said the vaccine was a success in Russia, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Hungary. Earlier this year, the U.S. Public Health Service approved Dr. Sabin's virus strains as the models for commercial making of the live-virus vaccine in America.

NURSES ASSN. MEETING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Nursing Association, representing 11,000 members, is holding its annual convention here to discuss nursing problems and practices. More than 1,000 nurses attended Monday's opening session of the four-day meeting. Delegates will be asked to approve Ohio participation in the American Nurses Foundation million-dollar research program aimed at improving nursing practice and service to the public.

BY THURSDAY, Sept. 22, special agents were in the field. They contacted Atlantic City police. They interviewed Rarick and a colleague in his McKeesport, Pa., home. They sought one or two others involved in the fights.

This always is ticklish work for the bureau. Rarely has it investigated union affairs. And then only on matters involving laws about to be tested by labor men in the Supreme Court.

When Rarick protested, Under Secretary of Labor James T. O'Connell dispatched requests for an investigation to the Justice Department.

Word went to Malcolm Wilkey at the criminal division; then on to the investigatory arm, J. Edgar Hoover's FBI.

Bureau agents had one assignment. They were to get the facts so the attorneys general could determine whether there had been a violation of the civil and labor rights guaranteed rank-and-filers under the rights Section 610 on the Landrum-Griffin law.

What does go down on the dockets as vital is the fact that the Labor Department moved swiftly under the Landrum-Griffin Act, the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure law, now just one year old.

It made no difference whether there were only 12 out of 3,500 delegates who believed themselves wronged.

There were thousands of delegates in the hall.

Most of them booted the 12 men who stood up and voted against a statement of confidence in the silver-haired national union chief.

Convention fist fights are as numerous as Yankee pennants and make no history.

Full-Time Job

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Should a boy work his way through college?

Many people still cling to the idea that this is a fine way for a young man to build character, which it may be. But it is hardly the best way for him to get the best possible education.

It would be better if he formed his character earlier—perhaps by working his way through kindergarten, where the strains of learning do not yet put so much wear and tear upon his mental apparatus.

Recently in an article on the opening of the school year I suggested it is far preferable for a parent to take out a mortgage on the family home to finance a son's education rather than let him try to work his own way unaided through college.

This view presupposed, of course, that the son had some real and honest interest in getting a higher education. No one would advocate putting the family homestead in hock merely to keep some worthless young bum solvent with his social fraternity and the college library.

But several readers wrote in to express the firm belief that I was speaking with a size 7½ voice through a size 6 hat, the implication being I didn't know what I was talking about.

The tenor of most of these letters was largely self-congratulatory, such as: "I look back with pride upon the fact I worked my own way through college. It did me a world of good."

But that experience was not an unalloyed joy. If they will look back on those years with the eyes of truth, they will remember the bitter moments, too. They will realize college life had a lot of possibilities they missed at the time and perhaps still miss. They gained much, but they lost a lot also.

The advantage of not having to work your way through college is simply this: You are able to take better advantage of what a college has to offer—learning. You can prepare yourself better for what you want to be.

No one, no matter how mentally exceptional, can work his way through college and learn as much as he could if he had that same time free to devote to his studies.

At its best college is a full-time job in itself, and it gets to be more of a full-time job every year as the standards rise.

Another advantage of not working your way through college is you have more leisure to brood upon the great mysteries of life—and to enjoy small pleasures—and these things are part of college, too.

I had to work most of my own way through college and feel the resulting benefits are greatly overrated. Now and then I still wish I had spent less time as a sophomore building up my character and instead had learned to play the ukelele.

Look what it did for Arthur Godfrey.

LAOS: KEY "DOMINO"

If strife-torn Laos should revert to civil war and give Asian Communists opportunity to take over, Southeast Asia could fall like a line of dominoes when the lead domino is toppled.

WHAT'S IT ABOUT?

Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma is in the saddle. Counter-revolutionary, pro-American Gen. Phoumi Nosavan charges that government forces can't cope with Communist-led guerrillas.

THAILAND SPEAKS UP:

Thailand army's deputy chief of staff cites increasing signs of Communist interference in Laos.

Thailand's adviser to Southeast Asia Treaty Organization says it should now consider the situation to see if action against Red aggression is called for.

WHAT ABOUT SEATO?

United States, SEATO member, has aimed warning at Red China to keep hands off Laos. If Red intervention is proved, SEATO could, and might well, act. Then, the fat would be in the fire.

Martin-Smith Vows Heard In Church At North Benton

The sanctuary of the North Benton United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Gay Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Martin of North Benton, and Robert Enloe Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Smith of Beloit, Sunday afternoon.

Vases of white chrysanthemums and gladioli and ferns banked the altar for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Russell D. Williams Jr.

Mrs. Harry Watkins was organist, and accompanied the soloists, Miss Lynne Ggliozzi who sang "Because" and Dale Allison, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "I'll Walk With God" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, Miss Martin chose a full-length gown of silk bombazine, fashioned with a scoop neckline, accented with jewel-rimmed Alencon lace, and long tapered sleeves. A scalloped hip yoke applied with jeweled lace motifs culminated in a gathered skirt, descending into a chapel train. Seed pearls trimmed her matching pillbox hat of Alencon lace which held her finger-veil of imported silk illusion. Fuji and spider chrysanthemums formed her cascade bouquet.

Miss Linda Best was maid of honor and appeared in a full-length gown of rose crystalite over taffeta. The shallow scoop neckline featured a V-back, with a contrasting cummerbund and bustle bow. She carried an arrangement of rose-tinted pompons. Identically styled gowns in blue crystalite were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Beverly Kilmer, Mrs. Russell Williams Jr. and Miss Barbara Cramer, cousin of the bride. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow pompons.

The attendants were matching open braid crowns accented with pearl flowerettes and a circular face veil and matching gloves.

Misses Nancy Sanor and Carolyn Smith were flower girls. They wore full-length gowns of rose crystalite over taffeta, styled similar to those worn by the adult attendants. Their matching headbands held face veils. They carried miniature arrangements of rose-tinted pompons.

Roger Smith was best man for his brother, while Denis Karlen, Wendell Stanley and Ray Sanor, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Pink rose corsages complemented the attire of the mothers of the couple. Mrs. Martin chose a rose and beige sheath with rose accessories, and Mrs. Smith wore a deep royal blue nylon crepe dress with matching accessories.

200 At Reception

Two hundred guests from Florida, Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Alliance and vicinity greeted the couple at the reception in Fellowship Hall. Bouques of pink and white pompons decorated the bride's table which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

The hostesses were Mrs. George Bullis, Mrs. Robert Aehl, Mrs. David Barnett, Miss Eleanor Trimmer and Mrs. Charles Sollazzo. Miss Jeannine Cook was in charge of the guest book.

The couple are graduates of Sebring McKinley High School. Mrs. Smith is employed as a teller by the First National City Bank in Alliance. Her husband was recently discharged from the Army and is engaged in farming.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside with the bride's parents. For traveling, the bride wore a blue wool plaid suit with beige accessories.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening.

uation ambiguous. When the summit blew up in Paris last May, the three Western leaders said they were ready to resume the talks "at any suitable time."

Khrushchev several times has proposed another summit within a few months—after Eisenhower leaves the White House.

Khrushchev was driving hard on three other fronts, trying to attain his objectives in this session of the Assembly.

First, he lined up a phalanx of speakers to support his demand for seating Red China in the U. N. Most of them centered their fire on the United States. One Communist speaker—obviously aiming at the African delegates—raised the question of the treatment of Negroes in the United States during his argument for admitting Communist China.

Second, Khrushchev kept up a drum-fire attack on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, trying to force him to resign and threatening that the Communist bloc will disregard him if he doesn't.

Wont Knuckle Under
Hammarskjöld, in an icy cool rejoinder, told the Assembly he has no intention of knuckling under to Khrushchev.

Third, Khrushchev worked harder than ever at lobbying for support outside the U. N. He whirled from luncheons to cocktail parties to receptions and dinners, glad-handing delegates, cracking jokes, smiling, and playing the soul of sweet reason.

How much impact Khrushchev has made is yet to be determined. The vote on Red China may be a clear-cut gauge. Last year, the proposal to seat Peiping was shunted aside by a vote of 44-29, with nine abstentions. With 13 new nations admitted this year, Khrushchev could make it much closer.

There seems little possibility that he can unseat Hammarskjöld.

But Khrushchev laid down a clearly implied threat. "If he himself does not muster up enough courage to resign," he said, "then we shall draw the necessary conclusions from the prevailing situation."

That appeared to imply that in the event of another problem such as the Congo—where Khrushchev has accused Hammarskjöld of favoring the West—the Communist bloc would refuse to abide by any U. N. decisions.

So They Say

Salem Quakers Rated 13th in Ohio High School Grid Poll

Massillon Piles Up 18 1st Place Votes

Beaver Local Climbs to 22nd; East Liverpool Gets Support

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That sensational scrap between Massillon and Springfield, which started a year ago for the state high school football championship, is on again.

The mighty Massillons, who nosed out the Wildcats for the big plum in 1959, are still atop The Associated Press Poll after disposing of second place Alliance—the 1958 champ—by 14-10 last Friday. But Springfield is moving up.

The Wildcats, only team in the top 10 with an unsullied goal line and boasting the best scoring average among the elite, eased into the second spot as the Aviators fell to the Tigers in the final 57 seconds.

Some shuffling occurred in the standings this week as 42 sports editors, 13 more than a week ago, cast ballots. Marion Harding, 16-8 winner over Lorain, and Toledo St. Francis, 20-6 victor over Toledo Rogers, moved into the eighth and ninth spots as Parma and Cincinnati Elder skidded.

Parma nipped Cleveland St. Edward 14-0 for its 22nd straight win, and Elder won its third by 30-22 over Cincinnati Withrow, but both fell from the select list.

Cincinnati Roger Bacon, although a 28-6 winner over Cincinnati Taft, dropped from sixth to tenth. Canton McKinley, beaten 20-14 by Akron South, slipped from fourth to sixth, while the Alliance loss didn't hurt the classy Aviators too much as they slipped only one notch to third.

There isn't room in the top 10 for everyone, but a lot of unbeaten, untied talent is trying to crowd in. With four straight wins are such teams as Wickliffe, Ashabula Harbor, Columbus Waterson, Bellevue (132-0), Norwalk, Urbana, Indian Lake, Martins Ferry, Beaver Local, Salem, Rutland, Fredericktown, Centerville, New Miami, Hamilton Catholic and Marietta.

Marietta and Martins Ferry have exact records, each having won four by a 101-30 scoring margin. Boasting three straight wins are Akron South, Akron St. Vincent, Akron East, Norton, Kent Roosevelt, East Cleveland Shaw, Cleveland St. Joseph, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Euclid, Gallipolis, Athens, Steubenville Central Catholic, and Purcell and Elder of Cincinnati.

The point-getters are beginning to pop up all over the state, and the race is close. Possibly incomplete returns indicate Dick Thoma of Columbus Waterson, with 12 touchdowns and 12 conversions in four games is the leader with 84 points.

Bob Berry of Howard has 13 touchdowns for 78 points, and Fred Nori of Middletown Fenwick has scored 12 of his team's 13 touchdowns for 72. Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin has 11 touchdowns and four conversions for 70.

Paulding's Mike Goings scored 40 points Friday in the 54-6 win over Lima Perry. He went 60, 24, 18, 3 and 84 yards for touchdowns and scored a pair of two-point conversions. George Jordan of London scored five touchdowns as his team beat Marysville 48-20 for its first of the season. Thoma of Waterson scored four TD's to whip Greenfield 44-28, and Berry of Howard counted four times in the 38-22 romp over Claridon.

The only thing approaching a casualty in the Massillon-Alliance classic was Tiger Coach Leo Strang. After the victory Leo almost passed out in the dressing room—too much excitement—and a physician had him sniff the smelling salts.

Hayes 'Regrets' Statement By Strobel About McKeever

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes has given Southern California guard Mike McKeever a clean bill of health on the way he played in the Buckeyes - Trojan encounter last Saturday.

An Ohio State assistant coach—Harry Strobel—was quoted in a postgame statement that "McKeever hit one of our players and should have been thrown out of the game instead of getting a 15-yard penalty."

Hayes told press luncheon guests Monday that he wrote a letter to McKeever, Southern Cal's president, and the University's athletic director Jess Hill, saying that McKeever played a good clean game against the Buckeyes Saturday.

Hayes said Strobel's remarks were an "unwarranted presumption of guilt on McKeever's part," and that game films showed the Trojan guard was not at fault in any way.

"On the play involved," Hayes said, "Mike made a good clean tackle. Another player, the films show, struck our ball carrier—but

Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin Pulls Away in County Scoring Race

By DICK BRAUTIGAM Beaver Local's Ronnie McLaughlin is running away with the Columbiana County scoring race. The little scabback rang up three touchdowns and two extra points against Salineville last week to raise his four game total to 70 markers. Wellsville's clever quarterback, Roger Ours, has moved into the runner-up spot with 42 points.

Salem's Ron Janovec failed to score last week against Farrell and slipped from second to third in the scoring race.

Other top scorers in the area are as follows:

Tri-County League—Bill Zimmer, 28; Turnpike Conference—Jim Alcott, Canfield, 48; and Inter-County League—Roger Cooley, North Lima, 37.

Syracuse No. 1 In College Poll

Ohio State Vaults Into Fifth Place

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer Syracuse, with a surge in the voting reminiscent of the second half rallies that have won two games for the Orangemen, today moved to the top in the Associated Press football ranking poll after two weeks in second place.

Syracuse displaced Mississippi, leader for two weeks, by a big margin in the voting by 48 newspapers, television and radio football experts who comprise the Associated Press panel. Impressive Iowa moved up from eighth place to fourth as the rankings underwent another wholesale revision. Fourth-place Illinois was the only team which remained in the same place it held after last week's voting.

Ohio State moved up from ninth place after its solid 20-0 victory over Southern California. Kansas slipped from 5th to 10th after its loss to Syracuse and Clemson dropped a notch to eighth. Newcomers are Navy, Purdue, and Arkansas, replacing Washington (No. 6) and Georgia Tech (No. 10).

In the point scoring on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second etc., it was Syracuse 428 and Ole Miss 402, just about the reverse of last week's figures.

Quaker Defensive Unit Still Unscored Upon

Ron Janovec Recaptures Lead In Rushing for Salem Eleven

Fullback Ron Janovec has recaptured the ground gaining lead for the Salem Quakers after relinquishing it for one week to halfback John DelFavero.

Janovec outgained Del Favero 58 yards to 33 in Friday's game with Farrell. The big fullback has racked up 244½ yards in four games, compared to 229½ for DelFavero. However, DelFavero has the best average among the regular ball carriers. He has lugged the leather 45 times, 19 fewer than Janovec, and is averaging a good 5.1 yards per carry.

Janovec still holds a comfortable lead in the scoring department with 40 points, Salem's 78 points are divided among seven players.

Leading tackler on the squad is end Don Davidson who has 20. Jim Schuster has the most assists, 13.

In team statistics, the 205 yards gained on the ground last week by Farrell was exactly the amount piled up by Salem's first three opponents combined. The Quakers have a big advantage over opponents both on the ground and in the air. Salem's total yardage is 1,022, compared to only 419 (just over a hundred yards a game) for opponents.

The Quakers aren't throwing as many passes this year as their foes. Gary Devan and Bill Beery have cut loose with 27 aerials while opponents have passed 36 times. Still, the Quakers have completed 12 compared to only 10 for the opponents. Salem has yet to have a pass intercepted. The Salem defenders have picked off four enemy aerials.

The Quaker defensive unit is still unscored upon. Farrell's six-point drive last week came against the offensive unit which had a punt blocked and carried over for a TD.

Ohio State, Illinois Have Similar Records

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Southern California 20-0, Illinois whipped Indiana 17-6 and blanked West Virginia 33-0.

Former OSU quarterback Frank Kremlbas, who scouted the Illini the last two Saturdays, says the Bucks' Saturday foe possesses a strong mobile line and fast backs, with a defense which hasn't allowed any long runs or passes.

And, it seems, the same could be said for the Ohio State.

Poland Wins Suspended Tilt From Clippers

The Tri-County League football game between Columbiana and Poland which was called at half-time on Sept. 24 because of a power failure at the Clippers' stadium, was completed last night with the Bulldogs coming out on top by a 28-7 score.

The score when the lights went off was 20-0 in favor of Poland.

Both squads went into last night's game unbeaten in two frays. The two teams, battling to a standoff in the third quarter with neither team being able to score.

Then in the third period, halfback Bill Zimmer, who had tallied two touchdowns in the first half two weeks ago, intercepted a Columbiana pass and raced 30 yards for his third TD. Zimmer then ran over the extra points to give the Bulldogs their 28 markers.

The Clippers averted a shutout when Gary Perkins bucked over from the one-yard line in the fourth quarter. Dale Murphy kicked the extra point.

Columbiana will attempt to bounce back into the winning column on Saturday when it travels to Canfield to meet the Cardinals, Turnpike Conference leaders. The unbeaten Bulldogs will be at home Saturday to the winless Sebring Trojans.

isn't push-button football, although we can send plays in at any time. Modern football is the most intricate game ever invented. Quarterbacks change plays on the line after calling a different one in the huddle. That calls for a change in all assignments—and even a tackle ras 21 techniques he must master to take care of all contingencies.

"In baseball the manager is allowed to call every pitch, every play. Basketball coaches may call time and chat with all five players at any time. But in football, the game most fraught with peril, the final decisions are up to the kids on the field. That's what makes football so much fun to coach."

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh bristles with "we won't scare" confidence and the New York Yankees are riding high on a 15-game winning streak going into Wednesday's World Series opener at Forbes Field.

Thirty-three years ago today they said the Pirates lost their last Series to the Yanks the day before it started. It was claimed they were overruled by the fence busting Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Co. in a preseries batting drill.

Danny Murtaugh, scrappy pilot of the Bucs, told Pirates' fans not to worry about his club losing the Series before it starts. "If this club of mine gets beat," he said, "it will be in the ball game, not before it starts."

"They don't scare. Don't forget we have a pretty good ball team too. We played and won in a tougher league. We're going to show them a good infield and a good outfield and some pretty good pitching."

Casey Stengel, boss of the Yanks, was caught up in a miniature mob in the hotel lobby when he arrived Monday afternoon with his club.

As the Yanks climbed out of their plane at the airport they were greeted by a sign "Go home, Yankees." In the lobby somebody gave Casey a record of the "Beat 'Em, Bucs" song that has swept the city.

"From what I'm told this is a good solid club," said Stengel. "But we have some good players, too. I think these fellows (Yanks) will keep right on just like they left off the season Sunday."

Before leaving New York, Stengel announced that Art Ditmar, a 31-year-old right-hander would open for the American League champs. He is expected to follow with Bob Turley and Whitey Ford in that order.

Ditmar, top winner of the Yanks with a 15-9 record, throws a sinking fast ball, good curve and slider, much the same repertoire as owned by Vern Law, the Pirates' 20-game winning starter. Ditmar has given up 25 home runs and Law 24. Both managers apparently wanted to take advantage of the spacious outfield territory in the Pirate home park.

Murtaugh surprised some baseball people by announcing he would use Bill Virdon in center field and Dick Stuart on first, regardless of the opposition pitching. During the season he often benched Virdon, a left-handed hitter, against a southpaw and played Gino Cimoli. He switched Stuart, a right-handed hitter, for Rocky Nelson against right-handed pitching.

The only switches in the Pirates order will be Smoky Burgess catching, instead of Hal Smith, against righties and Cimoli replacing Bob Skinner in left field against southpaws.

A sellout crowd of 38,000 could expect a good break from the weatherman. The advance forecast called for mostly sunny and warmer with the temperature around 70. Game time is 1 p.m. (EDT) with network (NBC) TV and radio coverage.

Hendley mastered the Toronto Maple Leafs in the finals 5-1 Monday night, scattering six hits, striking out eight and giving no walks.

His performance gave the Colonels the series four games to two and their first series title since 1954.

Frank Torre, sent down by the Milwaukee Braves in midseason, struck the big blow in the sixth inning when he crashed a two-run homer.

The Falcons, who were second in last week's NCAB college division total offensive standings, have a 377-yard game mark while Ohio U., 19th in the same standings, has a 362 yard level after three games.

The Bobcats have continued to show ground power with 5.2 yards per try but over the last two weeks have used the airways more successfully. Bowling Green, consistently a good passing team, has a 125 yard per game passing record.

Defensively, Ohio U. came up with the best performance in Saturday's game by holding Kent to an overall 261 yards and maintained a 191.3 mark. OU's 357 yards on offense was also the high for last weekend's battles. Toledo had the best ground work with 277 yards at Marshall.

Actions Hint He's Taking Orders

Nikita Merely a Noisy Puppet?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's extended stay in the United States and his performances at the U.N. arouse speculation again that he is taking orders, rather than giving them.

This speculation developed last May in Paris, inspired by sudden flips in policies Khrushchev had appeared to be pursuing.

Much was printed about the possibility that powerful Soviet military figures might be wielding a balance of power in Moscow. The thought was that these military men had been won over by hard-line Stalinists who now were calling the shots.

Actions Have Been Curious

Khrushchev's activities during the U.N. General Assembly session have been curious. One gets the impression he is a man carrying out specific orders and that he even might, from time to time, be taken to task for the way he is doing the job.

To understand the reasoning behind the speculation concerning Khrushchev's current situation, it is necessary to take a look backward.

Khrushchev, at what seemed the crest of his power and authority, had been driving hard along lines of a program for what he called peaceful coexistence. The Soviet Union would avoid the risk of total war while mounting political and economic offensives to break down resistance to Soviet concepts of how peace should be imposed.

Attractive Prospects Emerging

That would take time, and there were impatient men in the world Communist movement. Meanwhile some attractive prospects for militant, aggressive communist action were emerging in the Middle East, in Africa, in Cuba.

In 1958, Khrushchev imposed a go-slow policy in the Middle East, at the expense of a strong Communist party in Iraq which all but had that oil-rich nation in its grasp.

It is likely this and other cautious Khrushchev actions, inhibiting Communists from dangerous activity, raised some resentment in the world movement. It is fairly clear, too, that the Communist Chinese have been resentful. They have big plans for their role in Africa and the Middle East. They are far less impressed than Khrushchev with the horrors of nuclear war.

Assigned Specific Job

In New York, Khrushchev has acted like a man assigned a specific job. One day he roars. The next he conducts himself with relative dignity. Always his thunderous pronouncements and startling interruptions leave the idea that they seem well thought out, in advance.

Could it be that Khrushchev is an instrument, perhaps of a tight collective in Moscow?

Is Khrushchev just being tolerated in the title roles of party chief and government leader so long as he continues to display striking talents as a salesman for communism?

Office Employees Barred by Pickets

GE Plant Threatens to Fire Strikers Resorting to Violence

CLEVELAND (AP)—The General Electric Co. said Monday night it would take disciplinary action, including discharge, against any of the nearly 3,000 striking employees who engage in threats, intimidation, violence or vandalism.

The announcement was made after office workers were barred by pickets from several of the company's plants. Police cleared the way for supervisors and office workers to enter.

The company said salaried workers were stopped at its three plants at 1133 E. 152nd St. and at the wire plant in Euclid.

The walkout here is part of a nationwide strike against GE in 55 plants. The strike was called by the International Union of Electrical Workers at 12:01 a.m. Sunday after failure to reach agreement on a new contract.

David J. Fitzmaurice, president of IUE Local 707, said Monday night that there would be no mass picketing here Tuesday. He made the announcement even before the company's discharge threat.

"We had announced a peaceful picketing policy and this will be followed," he said. "Today's incidents were the result of normal first-day picketing."

Herman L. Weiss, general manager of the GE lamp division at Nela Park, described the pushing and shoving at the main entrance there as "uncivilized and crude antics."

"The antics displayed by some IUE pickets were entirely uncalled for," he said. "In spite of published statements of union leaders that picketing would be legal and orderly, mass picketing existed almost everywhere."

"It involved intimidation, abuse, pushing and shoving and even spitting by one ladylike picket."

A company spokesman said GE attorneys had under consideration court injunction procedure as a result of the "unlawful picketing." He added that no decision had been made.

Fitzmaurice suggested that the company work out some means of identification for those workers who are entitled to enter the plants "or close the gates of some of the plants."

PROBE CAUSE OF FIRE

CINCINNATI (AP)—Firefighters say two gasoline cans discovered behind a fire - destroyed antique store may indicate the blaze was set deliberately. Edward J. Dearwater, 70, operator of the antique store in nearby Blue Ash, estimated his loss in Monday's blaze at $35,000 and said there was no insurance. He said, "I'm all washed up."

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

LISBON—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Phillips, county home superintendent and matron, respectively, were authorized Monday by the Columbiana County commissioners to attend the conference for Ohio county home superintendents and matrons in Columbus Oct. 31 through Nov. 3. The next regular meeting of the commissioners will be Thursday.

MADRID MUSS—Sure to be a hit on the new TV series, "Surfside 6," is Margarita Sierra, black-eyed beauty who as a child was known as the "crazy cute Shirley Temple of Spain." Least of her charms—apparently—is her fractured English.

Lodge Says USSR May Someday Seek Aid Against China

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The time may come, says Henry Cabot Lodge, when the Soviets will be looking for new allies to help defend them against their most formidable ally of today—communism.

"But I didn't say soon," the Republican vice-presidential candidate told a nationwide television audience Monday night. "I said maybe my grandchildren—and they are eight in number—might see the day when the Soviets are so scared of the Chinese they would turn to us."

Lodge, interviewed on a TV panel show in Los Angeles by a group of educators, made another prediction of a long cold war in response to a question about the current debate in the United Nations.

"I don't want to paint a rosy picture," he said. "This conflict is going on for a generation. But he (Soviet Premier Khrushchev) has lost this round in New York, and he has lost it badly."

Lodge said the Communists might be trying to do in New York today what they did in Russia in 1917. In that year, he said, the Communists lost an election but Lenin declared existing election procedures were outmoded and the Communists took over.

Lodge said Khrushchev might have decided: "If I come to New York and do what Lenin did in the Constituent Assembly in Leningrad, maybe I can break up the United Nation."

"But," Lodge said, "I think he'll find the United Nations a tougher nut to crack."

Sheriff Van Fossan Issues Jail Report

LISBON—Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports a total of 79 prisoners were received at the county jail during September, in addition to the 42 already confined as of Sept. 1.

A total of 3,623 meals was served at the jail at a total cost of $1,087.14, making the average daily cost per prisoner 90 cents a day. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 46 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month. Fees totaling $475.54 were collected.

ELECTRIC SHOCK KILLS MAN

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 65-year-old man was killed Monday night when a television aerial he was erecting at his home here hit a live wire. The accident caused a short circuit that knocked out electricity to a nearby trailer camp. The death of the victim, Carl Darling, was attributed to electric shock reported Acting Coroner Harry W. Gauchat.
